EARLY HISTORY

Apostle St. Thomas, led by the Holy Spirit, travelled in India to spread the Good News of salvation through Jesus Christ and came to Kodungalloor, Kerala in A.D. 52 He ordained as priests four families named Sankarapuri, Pakalomattom, Kally, Kaliyankal.

Later one of these families, Pakalomattom, came to Kuravilangad and settled there. One of the branches of the Pakalomattom family, owing to some local competition and rivalry, moved away from Kuravilangad and came to Thengumpally at Murani near Mallappally.

At that time the area which included the present Mallappally, was under the king of Edappally. The family or branch of the above said family established very close relationship with the local ruler, the Raja of Edappally. The Raja was interested in the martial arts and the four brothers of the family branch were greatly skilled in such ancient techniques of warfare namely Kalaripayat. The Rajas encouraged the four brothers to establish Kalari to teach the princes and warriors.

In turn the Raja bestowed upon the brothers the right to vast regions of land.

Later one of these brothers, named Itty changed his residence from Thengumpally to Ambunkayam.

Ninan, one of the sons of our ancestor Itty, married Annamma of Mathilunkal family, Thiruvalla. Ninan was very friendly with some Brahamin families who were dependants of the Raja. Ninan who was adept at Kalaripayat became a very important person for them, for they wanted to learn the technique of this ancient warfare from him. He set up a Kalari to teach them and they in turn made all arrangements for the master's residence at Ericad. Ninan with his wife Annamma settled at Ericad in the middle of the 17th century and there began the long history of one of the most illustrious syrian christian families of Central Travancore.
